KILLER—Thousands of Dallas residents were treated to a awesome spectacle of this killer tornado as it dipped into city late April 2. Twister left 10 dead and 170 injured in its wake as it skirted 21 miles across city. Tornadoes whipped through north Texas and into Oklahoma and Arkansas leaving uncounted damage, 16 deaths, including Dallas 10, and injuries to more than 800. — NEA Telephoto

Big Hope Delegation to Attend Red River Meet

Hope Chamber of Commerce today made plans to send another large delegation to the 32nd annual meeting of the Red River Association in Shreveport the morning of April 23.

A motorcade will be formed on downtown streets and will leave here at 5:30 a. m., arriving in Shreveport for a 7:30 o'clock "Millwood Breakfast" at the Washington-Youree Hotel.

Tickets for the annual affair went on sale at the chamber of commerce office today and may be purchased for $1.75 each which includes tax and tips. Millwood delegates from several southwest Arkansas counties are expected to join the Hope motorcade as it moves south over Highway 29.

Texarkana plans to send a motorcade from that city, moving south over Highway 71.

Millwood Progress Report
L. R. Mathias, executive vice-president of the association, is formulating plans to bring to the convention leaders in government, military and civic echelons interested in the progress of the Millwood Dam project and other projects within the Red River basin.

He telephoned chamber of commerce officials here that Representative Oren Harris of Arkansas, and Gen. L. E. Seaman, division engineer of the Corps of Engineers, Southwestern Division of Dallas, would be among the speakers.

Mr. Mathias urged Hope to repeat last year's performance when this city sent about 150 delegates, swelling the total attendance at last year's meeting to 817 members and guests. Mr. Mathias said he hoped this year's meeting would exceed 1000.

The Red River Valley Association is on record as endorsing the plan for Millwood Dam and Reservoir and seven upstream tributary reservoirs.

Attendance is Important
A great show of interest is important at this meeting. Mr. Mathias pointed out, in urging another large delegation from southwest Arkansas. Although the association is a four-state affair, approximately half of the 817 who registered for the convention last year were from Arkansas.

First session of the convention begins on Monday, April 22, with committee reports, but of greater interest to Southwest Arkansas.

U. S. Industry spent $3,700,000,000 for research and development in 1936 of which 4 per cent was for basic research.

Vote Today in House on Cuts in Budget

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House faced the wearing prospect today of 17 roll-call votes to determine whether it wants to make official one of its sharpest budget-cutting drives in years.

The votes are scheduled on 17 separate amendments which trimmed $68,647,300 from new appropriations for the Departments of Labor and Welfare and the National Labor Relations Board. The reductions, added to cuts previously made by the Appropriations Committee and upheld by the House, amount to $187,422,000 from a total of $2,981,277,581 requested by President Eisenhower.

All the House-instigated reductions, enforced by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats, were tentative but most of them were imposed by hefty margins on standing votes. If the House stands fast, it will boost to almost one billion dollars its total cuts on new appropriations for the year starting July 1.

The Senate, which frequently restores many House-voted cuts, has not acted on any appropriation bills.

Hope Is Host Friday to AEA District

This city will be host Friday to a district meeting of the Arkansas Education Association. The day conference will start at 9 a. m. in the high school auditorium.

Some 400 teachers from Hempstead, Columbia, Lafayette and Miller counties will attend.

Speakers for the occasion include R. H. Cole and Miss Louise Phillips of Magnolia, Mrs. Norine Doyle of Texarkana and Mrs. P. Perkins of Hope. A general assembly will be followed by group sessions.

An election of board members and officers for the State AEA will also be held at the session.

Science Now Trying to Help Out the Hunters

By HAL BOYLE

MORGANSVILLE, N. J., (AP)—Science has come up with all sorts of gadgets—measuring depth finders—to help fishermen locate their finny pie.

But it has kind of neglected the fishermen's fellow fiend, a hunter. Steve Lavoie, an electronics engineer whose pastime is tracking down big game in odd corners of the world, aims to correct that lack. He's working on something really new for ardent woodsmen—an automatic dog finder.

Steve is head of Lavoie Laboratories here, a firm that has developed a number of electronic instruments for the government's highly secret defense missile program.

His idea for a radio dog locator came to him on a recent hunting trip to Columbia during which two cattle-killing leaguers were bagged.

Specifically trained dogs—valued at $500 to $1,000 each—are used to track down the big elusive South American tiger, as the jaguar is often called.

A cornered jaguar, unless the hunters arrive quickly, may ambush and kill or maim a pack of 7 to 10 of these valuable dogs. Sometimes an injured dog will crawl off and become lost in the jungle.

Steve's radio aid to hunting is quite simple. It consists of a three-pound radio sending set attached to the dog's back, and a slightly heavier receiving set carried by the guide.

"A dog can carry such a set all day in the jungle," said Steve. "Our only problem is to put on an antenna that won't get him tangled in the brush. But even if it does we can quickly locate him and set him free."

Lavoie hopes to use the new equipment still in the designing stage.

Canadian Is a Suicide, U. S. Blamed

CAIRO (UP)—Canadian Ambassador Egerton H. Norman committed suicide early today because of charges in a U. S. Senate subcommittee that he was a Communist. The Canadian government denied the charges.

The Canadian embassy announced the death of the 48-year-old career diplomat in a pointed statement which said he was an "extremely conscious, public-spirited, and patriotic Canadian citizen."

The widespread publicity branding Norman a Communist sprang from a Senate subcommittee action March 14 in releasing the transcript in which he was branded a Red. Committee Counsel Robert Morris said the subcommittee had "quite a few security reports which have a great deal of information to the effect that he is a Communist."

The Canadian External Affairs Department sent a heated denial to the State Department. It was reported to have been one of the sharpest ever sent from Ottawa to Washington and it expressed full confidence in the ambassador.

The State Department last month publicly disassociated itself from the subcommittee statements.

It said the allegations released by the subcommittee "do not represent opinions of the United States government."

"The United States maintains the friendliest relations with Canada and has every confidence in the Canadian government's judgment in the selection of its official representatives," the department said.

The Canadian government issued a series of statements declaring the subcommittee findings false. Canadian newspapers rose to his defense and said Norman had been "dragged through the mud" for no justifiable reason.

The statement issued today by the Canadian embassy here said: "The Canadian ambassador has always been an extremely conscientious public servant. Recently unpleasant publicity and accusations greatly distressed him."

"In his depressed condition, Mr. Norman apparently took his own life early today."

New Yorker Enquires of Race Rules

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A New Yorker has asked about the requirements for establishing a track for horse, dog or harness racing in Arkansas. Revenue Commissioner Orville Cheney said today.

Cheney, secretary of the Arkansas Racing Commission, said that the inquiry came in a letter from Irving Lobel of Forest Hills, N. Y.

Lobel's letter did not indicate whether he is connected with a race track.

A Colorado track owner recently inquired about the procedure for establishment of a dog track near here.

Arkansas law requires local approval in a county vote before the commission can issue a permit. The law does not mention harness racing but Cheney said he believed the horse racing statute would cover it.

Paragould Workers Against a Union

PARAGOULD (UP)—Employees of the Emerson Electric Co. plant here yesterday voted 110 to 66 against a proposal to bring in a labor union.

The employees voted on whether they would be represented by the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO. The election was supervised by officials of the National Labor Relations Board from Memphis, Tenn.

The plant was built last September.

Tornadoes Rip Out a Path to Northeast

By The Associated Press

Angry tornadoes boiling out of the Southwest swept across frightened Dixie last night and today as they ripped out a death-and-damage path toward the northeast.

At least one person was killed, scores were injured and dozens of buildings were wrecked in the shifting hit-and-run path.

Tennessee, Kentucky and Mississippi were hardest hit by the storms which followed earlier tornadoes in Texas, Oklahoma and Iowa, disrupting highway travel in many areas.

The southern Mississippi Negro community of Sylvestra was hit early today. Louise Jones, 65, was killed. Two more communities felt the tornado's wrath as it moved toward Tennessee.

A tornado struck the Mississippi State Sanatorium for Tuberculosis early today, injuring 50 to 75 patients. Two other tornadoes ripped other parts of the state during the night, killing one person and injuring at least seven others.

The funnel cloud which hit the tuberculosis institution in south Mississippi near Jackson at about 1 a. m. concentrated its fury on the Negro infirmary housing about 200 patients.

The other tornadoes occurred in a Negro community near Sylvestra in South Mississippi, where Mrs. Louise Jones, 65, was killed.

Three persons hurt; and near the Mississippi delta town of Glen Allen, where at least four persons were hurt. About 15 plantation workers' homes were blown away near Glen Allen.

Torrential rains following the twisters caused flash floods and filled streams to a danger point. The Pearl River at Jackson was five feet above flood stage and siremen, police and volunteers worked to evacuate residents and stalled cars from inundated areas.

At the Sanatorium, Dr. Boswell said:

"It was a terrifying thing. About a fifth of the 200 patients in the Negro infirmary were children. Many were hurt and in pain, but I never heard a cry or whimper."

"We had to evacuate the top floor because of rain that had blown in and did damage to the walls and ceiling. Some of the patients had to be moved to the lower floors."

Dr. Boswell, who was treating injured patients from about 2 a. m. until about 8:30 a. m., said the twister "practically deroofed" the service building for the white hospital and damaged several employees' cottages.

40,000 Killed on Highways During 1956

By GLENN WOLF

Associated Press Staff Writer
The nation's highways yielded 40,000 traffic fatalities in 1956 and this April finds state legislatures studying proposed legislation in at least six fields to try to reduce the number.

An Associated Press survey showed nearly two thirds of the state governments casting about for new laws to help solve the accident problem.

Action to date ranges from the recommendation stage to newly signed statutes.

Legislation includes bills or requests to enlarge state police and law enforcement agencies set down absolute speed limits, tighten driver licensing procedures, role out stiffer penalties for drunken driver, institute state sponsored and financed driver education programs, install statewide motor vehicle testing procedures, and make liability insurance compulsory.

The survey showed 29 states considering legislation to put more state police on the highways. The Washington State Legislature was considering a six-million-dollar annual budget for its state patrol.

With it, Acting Chief Roy Carlson proposed to add 150 commissioned officers to the patrol's present staff of 234.

In Illinois fourth highest in the nation with 2,135 highway deaths last year, Gov. William G. Stratton asked for a doubling of the Post Office to Get $47 Million or Service Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield said today there will have to be drastic curbing of postal services if Congress gives his department only 17 million dollars of the 47 million extra it has asked for operations over the next three months.

The necessary cutbacks, he said, "will very seriously penalize the American people and the 800,000 employees of the Post Office Department."

Summerfield called what he termed "an emergency press conference" to discuss the action by a House Appropriations committee which cut his request to 17 million dollars.

He said he was confronted with the "most difficult decision any postmaster general has been called upon to make," naming it as the necessity to decide within 48 hours how the cuts can be applied.

Summerfield outlined these various possibilities:

An embargo on acceptance and delivery of all third class mail except merchandise, at a saving of 30 million dollars for the Post Office Department's final quarter of the fiscal year. Third class mail includes advertising matter, samples and catalogues.

By MARINA COLE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department appeared ready today to go through with sharp cutbacks in postal services unless it gets the 47 million dollars it says it needs for the next three months.

The cutbacks would go into effect Saturday.

A House Appropriations subcommittee recommended yesterday that the department be given 17 million.

There were indications that even this might have rocky going in the full Appropriations Committee.

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), chairman of the Committee on Post Office and Pensions, said today:

Forest Insect, Disease School Planned Here

A Forest Insect and Disease Training School will be conducted at the Experiment Station east of Hope Tuesday, April 9, beginning at 9:30 a. m., announced County Agent Oliver L. Adams today.

The purpose of the Forestry Insect and Disease Training School is to acquaint agricultural workers and farmers interested in forestry of the common insect and disease and their damage to trees of our forests.

The program is as follows:
Opening Remarks and Cooperative Insect and Disease Detection — Truman Philter, Arkansas Forestry Commission Pine Insects and Their Control — William Holt and Charles Chellman, Entomologists, U. S. D. A. Pine Diseases — Dr. E. R. Toole, Plant Pathologist, U. S. D. A. Insects of Shade Trees and Their Control — Gordon Barnes, Extension Entomologist, Results of Cooperative Insect Survey and Movie Illustrating a Forest Insect — Dr. Lloyd Warren, Survey Entomologist.

Field Trip
Slides will be used as an aid in learning the various insects. An exhibit will be set up to show common insects and their damage to trees.

Industry employees, timber producers, and educational workers are invited.

Admission is free.

A total of 4.85 inches of rain was recorded yesterday at the Experiment Station. The downpour, the likes of which hasn't occurred here in years, quickly flooded local streets, streams throughout the county and washed out a number of bridges besides unloading damage to rural roads.

At least two schools in this area are closed today, Emmet and Blevins. . . and as of right now a total of four days show April has had 6.99 inches of rain and the total for the year is 25.80. Just 6.18 inches less than the total rainfall for all 1955. . . even so there has been more rain in less time in this section. . . Experiment Station records show the greatest 24-hour rainfall was June 11, 1945 with 7.75 inches and March of 1945 was the greatest single month in recent with a total of 12.87 inches and that too is overshadowed by the 19.5 inches in July 1899. . . 1950 was the wettest year in recent history with 65.00 but that is overshadowed by the 73.43 inches recorded in 1892. . . and 1899 was the driest year with a total of 20.20 inches. . . this writer can recall that July rain which flooded all of Hope. . . shortly after the rain I accompanied Rufus Herndon Jr. from 9th Street on Elm, for more than two blocks. . . by boat. . . many houses were flooded in the area.

Jerry Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Autrey Wilson has accepted a scholarship from Southern State College to be drum major. . . Jerry is a 5-year letterman of the Hope High band and for the past two has been drum major under the direction of Thomas Cannon.

Husky Fox Hound Gets His Reward

CHICAGO (AP)—Rocky, a husky foxhound, got his reward—14 pounds of juicy steak—yesterday as his share in an award given by the Chicago Currency Exchange Association for the capture of burglars.

The association's $1,000 prize was divided in $333 shares between Rocky's owner, Julius Harrell, a truck driver and two policemen for their part in capturing robbers of a currency exchange last April 14. Harrell spotted the burglars after Rocky began growling and pulling him toward the exchange door.

The extra dollar of the prize money was given to Rocky, the first dog ever given an award by the association.

Pulaski Irked by Hospital Quota Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Pulaski County Judge Arch Campbell thinks a new state law setting quotas on city and county patients for the state Medical Center should be challenged in the courts.

Campbell has carried his objections to state rulings into court before. Recently, he contested the State Hospitals' right to charge counties an upkeep fee for criminal patients admitted for observation.

In that dispute, he refused to pay the hospital its fees on a number of patients until the institution filed a suit in Pulaski Circuit Court. A decision against him has been appealed to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Campbell would not say yesterday that he definitely would hold back fees on any Medical Center patients over the legal quota but he said a contest suit could not go to court until a violation or failure to pay had justified such action.

Gov. Orval Faubus signed the new measure on patient quotas into law Tuesday.

The act puts a limit on the number of patient-days allowed certain counties and cities. For patient-days above the quota, a city or county must pay the Medical Center or be liable to loss of state funds.

Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton, who authored the measure, said it was designed to raise another $1,900,000 annually for the center.

Campbell called the bill "Dictatorial" and said it set a bad precedent. He indicated that he did not want to test the bill alone, and said: "We all the govern-

Texas Appropriates Funds for Bragging

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—They're not so worried about carpetbaggers down here now and the Texas House has passed a bill to make legal use of state funds for bragging.

The proposed constitutional amendment, passed 117-21 by the lower house yesterday, would allow Texas to use state funds to advertise its educational, recreational, industrial and natural advantages to people in other states.

This has been going on for quite some time, however, on a sort of private enterprise basis. Why, hardly anyone doesn't know Texas is the greatest of all states.

But after the Civil War for the Southern Confederacy, the state's constitutional writers were concerned over the invasion by Yankee carpetbaggers. So they included a section to ban spending of public funds "for the purpose of bringing immigrants into Texas."

Lemay Named Chief of Staff Today

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, the cigar-chewing boss of the nation's Strategic Air Command, today was named vice chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force to succeed Gen. Thomas D. White.

White will become chief of staff of the Air Force next June 30, succeeding Gen. Nathan F. Twining who becomes chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The 50-year-old Lemay has been chief of the long-range atomic bombing force since October, 1946, making him the holder of one of the longest tenures any commander of a military force has ever had.

Flood Threat in State in Wake of Heavy Rains

By The Associated Press

The threat of floods replaced the threat of tornadoes in Arkansas today as rivers continued to rise as a result of yesterday's deluge.

Although sunshine broke through partly cloudy skies over Arkansas, twisters still were reported early today in the neighboring states of Tennessee and Mississippi.

For Arkansas, a 28-hour period of continuous rain ended last night as the last of series of U. S. Weather Bureau warnings expired.

Arkansans breathed easier today as sunshine broke through partly cloudy skies following a 28-hour stretch of continuous rain alerts that ended last night.

Twisters still were being reported early today in the neighboring states of Tennessee and Mississippi as Arkansas began clearing away the debris left in the wake of yesterday's violent weather.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock lifted the last of a series of tornado alerts for Arkansas at 9 p. m. last night.

During the period which began at 5 p. m. Tuesday at least two small tornadoes struck northeast Arkansas communities and most other portions of the state were buffeted by hail, rain and high winds.

Despite the vallevity of weather, the storms caused only scattered, and relatively minor, property damage, and no casualties.

At one time, virtually the entire state was threatened by twisters. Chertaskie, Harrison, Greene, Washington, Conway, Russellville, Conway and Texarkana reported flash floods yesterday and several streams were out of their banks in scattered parts of the state.

The White River at Batesville was measured today at 31.2 feet—about eight feet above flood stage—and still rising. Residents said it was the stream's highest level since completion of Big Shoals and Norfolk dams.

The city of Batesville, situated in the foothills of the Ozarks, was not threatened but thousands of acres of far land near the city were reported under water. At least 10 head of cattle including 40 Angus, were reported marooned.

A landslide, caused by approximately five inches of rain, blocked the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks near Guyon, about 18 miles north of Batesville. Rail traffic on the route between Kansas City and Memphis was halted but railroad officials said they expected the line to be cleared within 24 hours.

Rainfall measurements for the 24 hours ended at 7 a. m. today included Bluff City, 6.95 inches; Georgetown, 5.10; Gordon, 5.73; Arkadelphia, 5.55; Walnut Ridge, 3.30; Fort Smith, 3.07; Little Rock, 3.59; Pine Bluff, 2.85; Texarkana, 3.16; El Dorado, 2.69; Fayetteville, 1.59; Filippin, 3.12 and Newport, 3.38.

In other states with the bloodiest pavements, the picture was similar. Texas was considering measures to add 200 more state police and increase their salaries. Gov. Averell Harriman of New York requested a 12 per cent step-up in strength of the state's 1,200-man field force. And in Michigan, Gov. G. Meanwhile, Little Rock and North Little Rock city officials were made under the measure. New measures would affect their quotas.

A Little Rock City Council committee considered methods of screening indigent patients in order to reduce the number seen at the Medical Center.

North Little Rock Mayor A. C. Perry adopted a "wait and see" attitude but expressed fears that the city would be unable to carry any large extra financial load.

Journalism Award for Endre Marton

NEW YORK (AP) — The George Polk awards, presented to Associated Press correspondent Endre Marton yesterday, just three hours after his arrival in this country from Vienna.

Marton, who covered the Hungarian revolt of last October and its suppression by Russian military might, shared the award with his wife Ilona Nyilas, who worked for the United Press. Both spent many months in Hungarian Communist prisons on charges of espionage.

The Polk awards, given by Long Island University, honor the Columbia Broadcasting system correspondent who was murdered while on assignment in Greece in 1948.

29 Convicts Paroled by State Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A member of the state Parole Board says the group has decided to "tighten up" on parole violators who ask for their second or third paroles.

Clyde King of Marked Tree made this comment in connection with a 50 per cent cut in paroles at a meeting of the board yesterday.

Only 29 of 72 applications were approved at the hearing.

For months the ratio of paroles to applications has run as high as 80 per cent.

King said: "There are hundreds of men in the penitentiary who haven't received their first parole yet." And Board Chairman Loyd Sadler of Morrilton said the board had decided to "get a little rougher."

Two men convicted of second degree murder were among those paroled yesterday.

One was Arnsiad Morgan, 33, convicted in Mississippi County in 1952 for the fatal shooting of his father-in-law, Hule Moody, at Goshnell. He was sentenced to a 15-year term.

The other was Willie Williams, Ashley County Negro convicted of the shotgun killing of a Negro woman in March 1950. He drew a 21-year sentence.

Others paroled, with county of conviction, crime, year of sentence and length of term, include: James Clarence Bass, Union, burglary, 1950, one year; Billy M. Angel, Miller, uttering, 1956, two years; Leo Greer, Crittenden, burglary and grand larceny, 1955, three years; L. D. Melton, Crawford, burglary and grand larceny, 1956, two years; Gilbert Hawkins, Garland, grand larceny, 1955, three years; Jimmy P. Parham, Ouachita, sodomy, 1956, one year; James M. Accidents on Highways Leave 5 Dead

By The Associated Press

Highway collisions near Pine Bluff and Little Rock took the lives of five persons yesterday and left two others badly injured.

Gilbert Jordan, 36, of Hampton, his wife and his aunt were injured fatally in a car-truck collision about 15 miles south of Little Rock on U.S. Highway 167. Jordan's mother was injured in the wreck. Two persons were killed and a third hurt critically in a collision on U.S. Highway 65 about nine miles north of Pine Bluff.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan and Jordan's aunt, Miss Annie Bernice Jordan of Fordyce, were pronounced dead on arrival at a Little Rock hospital.

Attendants at the hospital said Jordan's mother, Mrs. Walter Jordan of Fordyce, was hospitalized with multiple fractures and internal injuries. They said her condition was satisfactory.

Killed in the collision of two automobiles near Pine Bluff were a youth identified as Dannie Stiles, 16, of Little Rock and a man identified as Eugene Thomas Worden of Houston, Tex.

State Trooper Jack Scorgin said no one witnessed the collision which occurred in a driving rain near the Dexter entrance to the Pine Bluff Arsenal.

Officers said apparently the Texan was driving toward Little Rock and the other car, in which the unidentified man and young Stiles were riding, was headed for Pine Bluff.

The unidentified man was taken to a Pine Bluff hospital where attendants said he had suffered a brain injury and still was unconscious early today. Officers said his pockets contained only a pocket comb and $10 in cash.

The car in which he was riding had a Missouri license, officers said, but a check with Missouri authorities last night failed to turn up any information on the man. Officers speculated that the car might have been purchased recently and papers had not yet reached the record office.

Lemley-Willis Church Vows
Miss Melba Gaye Lemley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Lemley became the bride of Almer Willis, son of Mrs. Ray Willis, and the late Mr. Willis, in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, March 30 at 3 p. m. at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle. The Rev. W. C. Land was the officiating minister.

Mrs. W. C. Land, organist, provided the nuptial music. She also accompanied Mrs. Wilfred White, soloist, who sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Submission."

Tall floor standards of white Gladiolus were placed before a background of potted palms and clusters of jade foliage completed the decorations. Pews for the family were marked with white satin ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length gown of blue iridescent crystal-line, styled with a bateau neckline cut along princess lines with matching jacket complemented by short white gloves. Her shoulder-length veil was caught to a small white hat. Her corsage was white carnations.

Miss Betty Williams was the bride's only attendant, and she wore a ballerina length gown of blue ruffled net over tulle with a white bolero. Her hat and gloves were white, and her corsage was of white carnations.

Jimmy Willis served his brother as best man. Ushers were Richard Willis, brother of the groom, and T. C. Cranford.

Mrs. Lemley chose for her daughters wedding a navy Ariel Crepe dress with pink and black accessories. She clipped a corsage of pink carnations at her shoulder.

The bridegroom's mother wore a navy crepe dress, and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall. Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. George Morris.

Receiving the guests were members of the bridal party, and the bride's parents and the groom's mother.

The bride's table, was covered with a flounced nylon embroidered cloth over blue satin, and held lovely arrangements of white flowers using a touch of pastel to blend with colors in the bridal cake. Pink tapers in crystal candleholders with streamers of white ribbon tied with sweet peas were caught at either corner of the table. Beautiful arrangements of spring flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms.

Mrs. Fred Smith served the four tiered wedding cake and the punch was served by Miss Ann Santon. Assisting were Mrs. Joe Patterson, Mrs. Marie Hart, Mrs. Benson Foster, Mrs. W. H. Ratliff and Mrs. Taylor McRoy.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will reside in Hope where the groom is employed.

Junior Daffodil Garden Club Meeting
The Junior Daffodil Garden Club met Tuesday April 2 in Paisley Auditorium.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Lela McCorkle. The vice-president led the club in saying the pledge, and the secretary, John Whitten read the minutes.

The fifth grade gave the program called, "Spring." Camille LaGrossa was program chairman, Faye Key, played the recording of Mendelssohn's Spring Song. Brenda Pharris and Judy Dougan, Genevieve McKamie, Sandra Turner, Jonanna Goad and Candy Vines sang, "The Pussywillow Song." Judy Thornton told the legend of the dogwood and illustrated her talk with sprays of pink and white dogwood. Rose Williams played, "Walk of the Powers," and Myrlene Brooks read the origin of Easter. Gloria Jean Jarvis, Neal Barwick, Verna Gail Harmon and Judy Walker read Katherine Millhouse's "The Egg Tree." The climax of the program was the display of a beautiful Egg tree which all the children had made.

Linda Calhoun introduced the workers. The Spring background on the board was made by Judy Bennett, Gloria Jean Jarvis, Sandra Turner, Patty Davis and Kay Key.

The program closed with the entire club singing, "Easter Parade," with Rose Ann Williams at the piano.

Cookies were served and the meeting adjourned. Jan Ellis reported.

W. M. A. Shover Springs Baptist Church
Shover Springs Women's Auxiliary met Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with 12 members present. The president, Mrs. Delmer Irvin called the meeting to order and presided over the business session.

The theme song, "More About Jesus" was sung, and Mrs. Robert Garrett gave the devotion taken from Romans 5th chapter, followed with prayer by Mrs. Leslie Gentry. Several inspirational testimonies and expressions of gratitude for being back in the service of the Lord were given. Mrs. Earl Reeves and Mrs. Delmer Irvin sang a duet, "In the Shadow of the Cross," with Mrs. Troy Greenlee at the piano.

The lesson text was, "Jesus Rejected at Nazareth" and was taught by Mrs. Carl Reece. Mrs. Fred Hunt voiced the closing prayer.

Circle 2 of First Christian Church met with Mrs. Dewey Camp
Circle No. 2 of the First Christian Church met at 3 p. m. on Monday April 1, in the home of Mrs. Dewey Camp with Mrs. Raymond Robins as leader. The meeting opened with a moment of silent prayer, followed by the C. W. F. prayers.

The devotion was taken from the theme, "The Light We Walk In" and was given by three readers, Mrs. Raymond Robins, Mrs. H. G. Whitworth and Mrs. Roland Pearson. For the lesson, Mrs. Camp read a humorous little story.

Five Known Dead in Brazil Blast

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Searchers combed through the rubble today after an explosion in a fireworks warehouse hit by lightning.

Five persons were known dead and more than 400 injured. Police expected to find more bodies in the devastated three-mile-wide area of a shantytown at Duque de Caxias, factory town 15 miles south of Rio.

Police arrested the manager of the fireworks factory and two of his workers. They told police only about $100 worth of fireworks was stored in the building, but police said the force of the blast indicated there were more.

TORNADO reports had folks mighty edgy here the past few days, but failed to materialize. However, they have hit in this area as the above picture shows. Three persons were killed in this wrecked house, leveled by a tornado on April 15, 1951. Killed were Joe Atkins, his wife and son and the location is eight miles north of Hope on Highway 29. (The picture was brought in by a relative of the victims, Kennie Atkins of Hope.)

DOROTHY DIX

Hubby's Importing His Overseas Girl Friend

Dear Dorothy Dix: Before we were married, two years ago, my husband had dated Doris for several years. They parted as friends and have continued to correspond. He always gives me his and her letters to read. She sends her letters, "Love, as always." I am very hurt by all this, have told him so, and he says I'm being childish. I'm getting a nervous breakdown over it. If the letters continue, I'll leave him.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I went out with a girl twice, then discovered she had matrimony on the brain. I'm not even thinking of marriage and she tells everyone we're going steady. How can I tell her she's jumping the gun without hurting her feelings?

Dear Dorothy Dix: What can I do with an 18-year-old boy who has gotten out of hand? I know I've been awfully easy with him, but his dad is firm, sometimes. I guess you know how mothers are when they love their sons.

Are you ashamed of your lack of schooling? You shouldn't be, because it is what you know, not how you learned it, that really counts.

One of the greatest intellectuals in human history, George Bernard Shaw, attended school for just five years.

Henry Ford's formal education consisted of only a few years in a country schoolhouse.

Al Smith spent less than seven years in school, yet he went on to become four times Governor of New York, and a candidate for President of the United States.

Cornell University was founded by a man who never graduated from any school, Ezra Cornell, also organized the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Subway builder Sam Rosoff never had a day of schooling in his life and reputedly could neither read nor write. Yet he managed to amass a fabulous fortune in the construction business.

Robert Fulton, the Wright brothers, and Thomas Edison were all largely self-taught. — James Fox

The full committee, accused the Post Office Department of an ill-considered attempt "to sandbag us with threats."

The departments stand was backed by spokesmen for organizations of mailmen and postmasters, who protested that denial of the 47 millions would be "disastrous to the mail service and to postal employees."

The Appropriations subcommittee acted yesterday after Postmaster General Summerfield reportedly told it he needed the extra funds to operate through June 30 because of heavier-than-expected expenses.

Summerfield was quoted as saying that unless he was given assurances that his department would get the 47 millions, he would have to order immediate drastic service reductions, including a halt in city and rural mail deliveries on Saturdays, and closing of post offices on Saturdays, discontinuance of money order sales and reduction of mail deliveries in city business districts to one a day.

Republicans on the nine-man subcommittee tried to get the full 47 millions, but they were outvoted by the Democratic majority, which settled on the 17-million-dollar figure. The committee Democrats contended that smaller amount was all that could be allocated to expenses the department could not have foreseen last year.

William C. Doherty, president of the National Assn. of Letter Carriers, said the 17 millions would only take care of automatic increases in salaries of postal workers. He described the situation as "disastrous and catastrophic."

"We already had plenty of money before the rain came," said

Mills McPeck, an agricultural statistician with the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office here.

McPeck said the water would benefit Arkansas farms only by increasing subsoil moisture. There is some chance of crop damage from the rain, he said, but his office had received no reports of losses. He said that if water now covering some fields runs off "within a day or two" there will be little damage. Thousands of acres were reported under water today in the Water-ville area.

Hybrid seed corn costs the farmer about $1.50 per acre.

COMPARE

See how the extra value in Chilean Soda makes an extra good crop of corn. Chilean is a natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements.

and you'll choose CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

One hundred years of consistently satisfactory experience with Chilean Nitrate of Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for side-dressing corn, cotton and other summer crops. It is a rare, natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. Where the soil is too acid; where potash is deficient or where the supply of available phosphate is low; where the crop needs quick help; or where one or more of the minor elements is lacking, Natural Chilean Soda has no equal among nitrogen fertilizers.

The side-dressing effectiveness of any nitrogen fertilizer depends very largely on its content of nitrate nitrogen. The nitrogen content of Chilean Soda is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen and this, together with its rich sodium content and minor elements, accounts for its remarkable efficiency and consistently superior performance in the field.

Sodium adds a great deal of extra value to the product. It destroys soil acidity, substitutes for potash and calcium when necessary, increases the supply of available phosphate, and helps the plant gain the utmost benefit from the nitrogen. In addition, Chilean Soda contains small amounts of needed minor elements which help to protect against hidden plant-food deficiencies.

If you have any question about your nitrogen side-dressing for corn, we urge you to use Chilean Nitrate. If only in a small way to begin with, so that you can see the difference for yourself. We are confident you'll find it the most economical and satisfactory nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you ever used for side-dressing your crops.

Rain No Benefit to State Farmers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas farmers stand to derive little benefit from heavy rains which dropped up to six inches of water on the state yesterday, an agricultural expert said today.

McPeck said the water would benefit Arkansas farms only by increasing subsoil moisture.

To Quit Trying to Contact the Dead

By TOM BYGARD

DETROIT (AP)—One of the last members of an 107-year-old pact aimed at communicating with the dead says it is about time to give up.

"I've been at this for 38 years and nothing has come of it," Claude D. Noble said, "and I think I'll let it die with me."

Noble will keep trying to make contact with his deceased friends—magician Howard Thurston, lawyer Clarence Darrow, explorer Carveth Wells—until he joins them in death.

But he says he will not name a "successor" to himself in the pact to try to communicate with his spirit.

The strange agreement to break the barrier between life and death—or prove it could not be done—was formed in 1898 by two magicians, Conant, a Frenchman, and Herman the Great.

Although skeptical, they agreed that the survivor on each anniversary of the other's death would hold an object associated with the deceased. The spirit of the dead man was supposed to knock the object from his hand.

Another clause of the pact obliged the surviving member to name one or two successors.

Noble, a Detroit cement salesman of 65 who dabbles in magic as a hobby, was brought into the pact by Thurston, a boyhood friend.

The only other surviving member of the pact is Harry Blackstone, the magician. Blackstone is 81 and in ill health.

Noble has gone to Chicago to seek contact with the ghost of Darrow and to Columbus, Ohio, to search for the spirit of Thurston.

On the exact anniversary of the death to the minute, it possible—Noble holds an object that meant something to the dead man—a book, a plaque, a magician's wand, a picture—and urges the soul to knock it from his hand.

"I wait a minute or two and then it is over," he said. "Nothing has ever happened."

He says he is "always a little disappointed," but admits, "I wouldn't be so happy myself if it dropped."

The long-standing experiment is far from a failure in the eyes of Noble.

"To me the fact that it hasn't worked is the salvation of the whole idea," he said. "It shows up the spiritualists who tell people they can bring a person back from the dead."

"I've received many letters from priests and other churchmen who approve of what I've been doing."

Quick Approval of Bridge Predicted

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Highway Director Herbert Eldridge says he thinks the Bureau of Public Roads will give quick approval to plans for a proposed Mississippi Bridge at Helena, when revisions outlined recently have been completed.

The Highway Department, consulting engineers for the proposed bridge, and bureau officials have held a conference to discuss the plans. The bureau representatives suggested certain changes and Eldridge said last night that these corrections "are now being made."

He added:

"I believe they will be approved quickly by the Bureau of Public Roads when they are completed."

Eldridge said the consulting engineers—the Kansas City firm of Howard Tammen, Needles and Bergendoff—had been working on the revisions for about eight weeks.

"We have an agreement with the Mississippi Highway Department now that they will join us in the maintenance of the bridge after the bonded indebtedness is cleared," the highway director said.

DOORS OPEN AT 8:30 FRIDAY MORNING! MANY ITEMS ARE IN LIMITED QUANTITIES! HURRY IN EARLY!

J. A. WEST CO.

KRZ DAZE SALE!

Here's a whole mess of items nobody wants, anyway, J. A. WEST CO., doesn't . . . And you didn't either, at regular prices . . . so we've gone hog wild and chopped the prices down . . . Put on your bargain hunting specs and join the fun at J. A. West Co., Friday. No Exchanges, No Refunds.

We're hankering to get rid of some MEN'S WHITE PAINTER OVERALLS. They were white before the dust settled on them, for 93c, you can take them home with you and shake the dust off.

Can't find a name for these, but they look like umbrellas without a handle. For 10c, you figure out what they are.

We can't decide whether this is a spring or winter suit, all we know is that it is a MAN'S SUIT size 39. We tried to get 25.00 for it, see what you think of it at 8.00.

If things get better with age, then this is a dandy. I only BATH MAT SET. The original color was green, now it's a newer shade, that's not in the book yet. First 50c carries it to a new home.

If you have a need for ecrú WINDOW SHADES then there's no need to bother for this one, we have 17 white window shades that you can have for 50c if you'll carry 'em home with you.

Folks if you think we merchants are getting rich, then just look at this one, we have 10 of something, one says they're Baseball Caps, another says dress caps, you look at them and tell us what they are. If you can't decide, then give us 30c, take 'em home and ask your neighbor.

These need dusting . . . they're BOY'S HATS, in Felts and Zelans, for 95c you take 'em home and shake the dust off.

The manufacturer told us these would shed water, MEN'S ZELAN HATS, there's only 3 of them, for 15c you get out in the rain and see if they really will shed water!

Drug in and out of our stock room since last year, 4 only, LADIES PADDED BRAS. Each one looks like a different style. Take 'em home with you for 75c. We're tired of looking at them.

Maybe you could cut the lace off this slip and use it for something. 1 only LADIES' NYLON SLIP, its size 34, with yard after yard of lace on it, buy the lace on it at 75c and we'll give you the rest of this slip.

You'll need something to carry all these buy's home with you in so we've got it, IMPORTED WOVEN RATTAN CLOTHES BASKETS 50c. Buy one and fill it up before you leave.

PLEASE NO MAIL OR PHONE ORDERS. YOU MUST SHOP IN PERSON FOR THESE ITEMS!

where crazy prices makes cents!

We found these under a counter, no telling how long we've had them, you can look 'em over and decide whether you want to take 'em off our hands or not. LADIES WHITE UNIFORMS, we only found 6, so we'll see what happens at 1.50 ea.

Here's what you need if you're not going far . . . it might not hold up on a rainy day but it's a good bargain in LUGGAGE at 2.00. It will hold all your handkerchiefs on a short trip.

Seems as though our buyer liked LUNCHEON SETS and the 2.98 ones best . . . most of them even have matching napkins, we'll try 1.62 and see if you could use them.

We don't know whether someone just left these here, or we've had them all the time, they're WOMEN'S HOUSE SHOES, in size 5, blue color. If they're your's come claim them. There's a 75c storage charge against them.

We found this under a rug in our dressing room, 1-LADIES BLACK SWIM SUIT, in a size 36, some say it was a 6.95 seller before it became lost, but at 1.00 someone surely could find a use for it.

These have been on our counter so long that they faded at the fold. Wear 'em at night and the faded spots won't show. 4-Pair BOY'S DRESS PANTS, all size 14, lets see what happens at 35c a pair.

These would look pretty good after they've been run through the washing machine. 7 LADIES COTTON HALF-SLIPS most of them even have emb. trims. For 41c you can store these away.

If you like pink then here's the gown for you, 1-LADIES' RAYON-TRICOT GOWN, in a size 5, put it in your lingerie wardrobe for 80c.

Now if you wear a size 8 or better dress shoe, then forget you saw this, 1 - pair only MEN'S RUBBER SLIP-OVER SHOES in a size 7. For 50c you could afford to wade mud with these.

Summer is the time to go picnicking . . . feed the ants and chiggers, but you gotta have something to carry them food in . . . you can carry them their food in a 3 pc. ALUMINUM SAUCE PAN SET for only 43c.

The Rare Adventure by BERNARD FERGUSON

XXI
"I got your message from Father Paleologue," he said. "You had to telephone urgently to the British Consul-General in Tunis. That is so," said Allan.
"But you didn't telephone?"
"I couldn't: the line had been cut."
"But you would have telephoned otherwise?"
"There had never been any such message." So Camille was trying to catch him out or to prove his bona fides, one or the other; and in either case he was bound to make sure that his truthfulness was established, for if he should fail to establish that he would have failed also in his mission, before even he was fairly launched on it.
"Captain Billon deliberately deceived you in order to prevent you from accompanying me to Clusium?"
"Yes."
"Yet he did not prevent you from coming here this morning?"
"Altogether this conversation was too one-sided, thought Allan. Camille was interrogating him much as an intelligence officer interrogates a prisoner or a deserter.
"There seems to be some misunderstanding as to why I am here," he said. "I did not come here this morning to bandy questions and answers with you, sir, or with anyone else. When I came to Seknou three days ago, from Scotland, I came as the head of heard their names not only mentioned but also ennobled; and Jules Fernana translated rapidly while Camille continued to look at Allan.

"It was not until I got back here from Arag el Kebir yesterday at about noon, after the incident that Monsieur Camille knows about, that I realized what was happening. I still did not want to embarrass the French, who had shown me every kindness — although I ought to tell you, perhaps, that when Captain Billon came to see me at the hotel on Friday morning — Monsieur Jules will remember — it was to ask me to leave Seknou at once. I had come a long way in search of the family of Al Merhametsiz — or, may I say, the Seknou branch of my own family? So I refused; and here I still am. I am told that before the fighting started this morning you, or somebody, was good enough to ask that my wife and I should be allowed to leave the Gendarmerie; and that was the first time that I really knew that I might be sure of a welcome the Seknougais — I mean, as Larg of Larg, and not only the traditional welcome of the Seknougais for strangers."
"Then may I welcome you afresh now," he said. Did you know that Billon claimed, when he was speaking to us before the shooting began, that you were on the side of the French?"
"I heard voices calling out to each other, but I could not understand what was being said."
"The dog," said Camille fiercely, but he seemed satisfied with Allan's literally truthful answer. "Why didn't Madame come with you this morning?"
Here again the best answer seemed to be a literal statement

House Group to Study Aid to Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Education subcommittee today closed-door consideration of a bill to provide federal aid to school construction.
Various members disagree on whether they would get through today, but all said they thought there would be some compromises between what the administration asks and the larger amount some Democrats want.
Rep. McConnell (R-Pa.), author of the administration bill, said the current "atmosphere of budget cutting" was a hazard.
Rep. Bailey (D-WVa.), subcommittee chairman, has acknowledged the economy drive "might put us behind the eight ball."
The administration wants a four-year program totaling $1,300,000,000 in aid to the states. Distribution would be on the basis of school-age population and relative income.
The bill generally called the Democrats' measure, by Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.), would provide $3,000,000,000 in federal grants to the states over six years. Distribution would be on school-age population alone.

Officials Study Reply From Egypt

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials studied today a reply from Egypt on high proposals for revising Egypt's Suez Canal operating plan to protect the interests of other nations.
There was no immediate information on the contents of the note, received last night from Ambassador Raymond A. Hare in Cairo. Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday before receiving the reply that he expected to learn from it whether there was a prospect "of serious negotiations" for an agreement satisfactory to the United States and the other Western nations.
He conceded at a news conference that the United States has no direct pressure such as "military threats or boycotts of the canal" which it could use to obtain modifications in the Egyptian plan.
However, he said Egypt's decision will greatly affect that country's future relations with other nations and he hinted that this applies specifically to United States economic aid, which Egypt has received in the past.
"We are anxious," he said, "to think most countries are anxious, to see developments which will improve and uplift the economy of Egypt and its Arab neighbors and we think it is in the mutual interest that the interdependence of this area with other areas should be promoted by sound Egyptian policies."

Rioting in Chile Brings Martial Law

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chilean government clamped emergency military law on her six million people today after a night of violent anti-inflation rioting left scores of dead or wounded in this capital.
The riots followed a week of turbulent demonstrations, mostly led by students, against Chile's runaway cost of living. Unofficial reports placed the death toll as high as 60.
President Carlos Ibanez, in a nationwide broadcast, warned the population he stands for "orderly use of arms, whatever the consequences," to put down the violence.
Agovernment decree announced a state of siege—a form of martial law. The government blamed the rioting on international communism and lawless groups seeking to damage the economy of this nation, one of the most democratic in Latin America. It said the events of the past week were "the beginning of one phase of violence designed to destroy the country."

of fact which begged the question: She is tending nine wounded Seknougais in a corner of the Gendarmerie.
"That is good of Madame, but it is awkward for us," said Camille thoughtfully. "I thought the French might have kept her as a hostage."
"The Largs," said Allan sententiously, "do not allow themselves to be used for such purposes."
"The French do not consult the wishes of those whom they hold as hostages," he said bitterly. "And I still do not understand why the French who were so anxious to get you out of our hands yesterday, were willing to let you come this morning. Unless they have sent terms with you as messenger?" He gave Allan a keen look.
"I am not a boy," said Allan. "I am run about with messages. I have come to meet the family of Al Merhametsiz. I am more sure than ever that the stock still exists here in Seknou and it seems to me that I have come at an especially appropriate time."
At last Camille stood up. He was smiling with more affability than he had shown hitherto.

Farming in Egypt Badly Suffering

WASHINGTON (AP)—Egypt's agriculture sometimes called the backbone of that country's foreign and economic policies, was described by a government expert today as faring poorly since Egypt turned its back on the West.

Writing in the current issue of "Foreign Agriculture," a magazine published by the Foreign Agricultural Service, Quentin M. West said Egypt may change its attitude toward Western powers once a peaceful settlement is reached in the Middle Eastern affairs, said Egyptian foreign policies in recent years have been foreign exchange needed to meet needs of its growing population.

"The present international relations of Egypt have resulted from the urgency of finding markets for cotton abroad," West said. "High prices offered by the Soviet bloc countries have lured a large portion of Egypt's cotton markets in the West."

West said it is doubtful if agriculture in Egypt has maintained the apparently good position it held just before the Anglo-French invasion of Egypt last fall.

V-President Can Oust President

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It may startle you but—the vice president tomorrow could declare the president unable to carry out his duties and announce himself as president.

So far the two vice presidents who had the best excuse for doing that—those who served under President Garfield, who lingered 80 days after being shot, and President Wilson, laid up for 17 months—did nothing of the kind.

But what would stop some future vice president—in a situation unimaginable now, say crisis, ambition, political conflict—from trying to get the presidency by declaring the president disabled?

The biggest single deterrent would be the power of Congress to impeach him if it thought he was trying to usurp the presidency.

Nevertheless, such a try-on-day is possible so long as the present constitutional gap on the presidency remains.

The Constitution says: In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president.

In that sentence the Constitution does one thing, fails to do another: 1. It gives the vice president power—to step into the presidency—on a contingent basis. That is, he assumes the office of the president is disabled.

2. I fails to say who decides the President is disabled. It does not say the vice president shall or shall not make the decision.

Under law, when a man is granted power on a contingent basis—and when there is no language to the contrary—the decision on

Bill Signed to Fix Quotas for Hospital

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Bills fixing patient quotas for the new state Medical Center and authorizing an Arkansas Development Finance Corp. have been signed into law by Gov. Orval Faubus.

When the governor laid down his pen after putting his name to these and other measures yesterday, he had completed action on all legislation remaining from the regular and special sessions of the General Assembly.

Some of this action was in the form of vetoes. Faubus rejected a bill to lift the severance tax from crushed stone, sand and gravel and certain other construction materials.

He also vetoed a measure to give public school funds an exempt status if it becomes necessary to trim expected allotments for governmental functions in the next two fiscal years.

The count now stands at 568 new additions to Arkansas statutes as a result of the regular legislative session which ended March 14 plus a highway appropriation act and when to assume that power is up to him. This was pointed out yesterday by Atty. Gen. Brownell, who told Congress:

It is a well-established rule of law that in contingent grants of power the one to whom power is granted is to decide when the emergency has arisen. Thus the vice president is constituted the judge of the President's inability.

Brownell, representing the views of President Eisenhower—urged Congress to fill this gap in the Constitution by a constitutional amendment which he proposed.

This was it: A vice president himself would never be able to move into the presidency by declaring the president disabled. Instead, this would be the procedure:

If a president was unable to carry out his duties and was mentally alert enough to know it, he could instruct the vice president—but he'd have to do it in writing—to take over temporarily until the president recovered.

Two expiring acts passed during a 3-day special session.

The governor has turned down about 35 bills altogether.

One provision of the finance corporation law, which was designed to help finance the states industrialization program, would allow the state Board of Finance to purchase as much as five million dollars or more in bonds which the corporation may issue to aid in obtaining or expanding industries.

Faubus chose between the financing bill and two other measures which together were aimed at achieving the same general purpose as the single bill. He vetoed the others.

The Medical Center quota bill signed by Faubus gives counties and municipalities a certain number of patient days, based on population, for the Little Rock facility. Any above the limit would be charged to the city or county.

Faubus and Assistant Welfare Commissioner A. J. Moss said they did not think the law would last several days.

Sheds Hubby, Ready to Go Back to Work

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gloria Grames, the unpredictable blonde, is shedding her third husband and going back to work.

Gloria reversed the usual Hollywood procedure and left the home she shared with comedy writer and filmtown character Coy keep any needy patient, regardless of where he lived, from getting treatment at the Medical Center.

The governor said he would leave Little Rock today for Peter's Island in the Mississippi River—on the Mississippi side—for a hunting trip which would last several days.

Howard. She went home to Mama. But then, you can pretty well expect Gloria to do the unusual.

Such as leaving her Hollywood career behind when she was hotted a pistol and staying two years in Europe.

What was she gone so long for?

"Well, I was over there for a picture," she explained with perfect logic. "That was 'The Man Who Never Was.' When I got the ugh, it seemed like a perfect time to see Paris. Then I got pregnant, so why not stay over there? I had the baby and came home."

After a few final skirmishes in her stormy marriage to Howard, she called it quits.

"I was unhappy living in that house and waiting for something to happen," she said, so I decided to move out."

Now she's going full steam ahead with her career, starting with a Western, "Ride Out for Revenge," opposite Rory Calhoun. After that, she'll make her first stab at television with a G.E. Theater

Mental Test for Alleged Slayer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A mental examination for a Negro charged with murdering a white grocer was ordered yesterday by Pulaski Circuit Judge William J. Kirby.

Essau Mitchell, 45, is charged with first degree murder in the fatal beating of George Beyerlein, 66.

Beyerlein's body was found near his grocery store a few hours after his wife's body was discovered inside the fire-razed store here March 9.

Besides writer Howard, Gloria has been wed to actor Stanley Clements and director Nick Ray. I asked her if the latest unpleasantness has prompted her to give up men.

Oh, no," she smiled, "I wouldn't go so far as to say that."

ROADMASTER 75

Custom Built by Buick NOW ON DISPLAY

A NEW CONCEPT in motorcar excellence awaits your inspection in the Roadmaster 75 just introduced.

You will see what we mean the first time you glimpse the interior.

The impeccable tailoring and taste of the rich appointments are as obvious as the comfort is opulent.

The seats, for example,

They are meticulously fashioned in glove-finished fabrics of broadcloth or Nylon, with backs topped in supple, hand-buffed leather. They are thickly layered with contoured foam rubber. They are wide, deep, superbly soft.

The doors present a new standard of luxury and restfulness—fully upholstered and softly cushioned from floor line to window.

The instrument panel, below the safety cushion, is chromed from end to end. The deep-pile carpeting is backed by foam. The integral armrests are fully in keeping with the spacious grace of the car.

The complete interior is matched by the mechanical excellence that is Roadmaster tradition.

Indeed, nowhere else among the world's fine cars can you enjoy superb performance quite like that of a Roadmaster 75—from the instant response of its brilliant new Dynaflo, to the smooth obedience of its all-new air-cooled aluminum front brakes—newest and the finest in the fine-car field.
